Thank you very much for allowing me to participate in this anthology.
For some reason I was already doing working on manga with "cute monster girls" or "cute boys", but I guess now there can be more variations!

The Youth of Horace, the Dullahan

りしん

There have been many studies about monsters and devil-humans in writing.
Being that interesting a theme, no matter the monster being studied, I feel that it is a very deep genre.
I gave the Dullahan I drew some little (??) personality, but I would consider myself lucky, in case you have enjoyed it.

Nice to meet you, I'm Amaton.
I really like non-human heroines, so I'm delighted to participate in such a wonderful

When I got the chance to draw something about ghosts and posthumous marriage,
I gleefully took it up.

I'd like to thank you for letting me put my voice in this amazing anthology!
I think it'd be nice if there were cat mascots in shops like this so, that's what I drew.
I want to pet those fluffers!
(There's a model in front of the shop
I usually go, in my neighbourhood.
Their fish is delicious!)

We're all wondering how Mandragora-

Going to the toilet and putting on her clothes seems hard as well...

I tried writing an unusual story with a one-eyed horror character, where the other person is quite flirtatious. What did you think of it? Incidentally, the inspiration for these black balls, of which there were more than 100 in the house, was based on jumping spiders. Adanson's house jumpers are so cute...
